

MAGIE'S SHORT BIO

Magie Cook is a visionary entrepreneur, internationally recognized speaker, and expert in business and personal development. She founded her company with just $800, later selling it alongside Garden Fresh to Campbell's Soup for $231 million. Now, she is dedicated to helping leaders overcome adversity, unlock their future identity, and create a lasting impact in the world.

Having spent the first 18 years of her life in an orphanage, Magie developed her groundbreaking 3R Framework, which enabled her to turn adversity into an advantage. With over 30 years of experience, she equips others with the tools and strategies to accelerate their success and unleash their full potential.

Her expertise has been featured on Daystar TV, Bloomberg TV's "The American Dream," and numerous other major publications, magazines, and networks. She is the recipient of multiple prestigious awards, including induction into the University of Charleston's Hall of Fame and the Nobel Entrepreneur Prize in Mexico.

Magie collaborates with Fortune 100 and 500 companies, working alongside top executives, professional athletes, influencers, and thought leaders to drive transformation and success at the highest level.
